The program for the end-of-year performance examination for Contemporary Double Bass must comprise at least six works. All works on the list are examples of twentieth and twenty-first century music styles. The program must include:

- at least one unaccompanied work
- at least two works with accompaniment.

Each title listed constitutes one work. Where a work comprises several movements, more than one movement may be performed unless otherwise specified. These movements together will count as one work. Repeats, cadenzas and tutti passages are optional.

In many cases, the works on this list are specific transcriptions or arrangements. These arrangements have different musical and technical challenges from the original works. The listed works are to be performed as notated. Other editions or arrangements are not acceptable. Any different arrangement is subject to approval in the Alternative Works process.

Instruments

Students must perform all works using an upright double bass. Students may use a bow as appropriate to the style of the work.

Accompaniments

The accompaniment may be provided live by a single instrument such as piano, another keyboard, guitar, drum kit or another bass. Where a second bass is used, the work of the student must be clearly identifiable. Alternatively, students may use a prerecorded accompaniment. The recording may include sounds of one or more instruments. The recording may be purchased as a pre-recorded CD or students may present their own pre-recorded accompaniment. The backing track must not include a recording of the notated parts that are to be performed by the soloist. The content of the accompaniment will not be assessed in performance. All recorded material used in the examination, including click tracks, must be audible to the assessors.

Improvisation

Some Contemporary Double Bass works include a section for an improvised solo. In performance students will be expected to perform the unstructured sections in an appropriate style within the style of the work as a whole. The assessment will be based on performance skills demonstrating an understanding of styles not the nature of the musical ideas arising within the improvised sections. The improvised material should embellish the performance of the work rather than demonstrate an open-ended concept of improvisation.

Sample programs

Sample programs are provided as advice only. The works need not be performed in the order listed. Sample programs for Contemporary double bass are provided at the end of this list.
