Drama
Solo performance examination

Monday 7 October to Tuesday 29 October
INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

Performance examination conditions
1. The examination will be set and marked by panels appointed by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority (VCAA).
2. VCAA examination rules will apply. Details of these rules are published annually in the VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook.
3. The performance examination venue is set annually by the VCAA.
4. The solo performance will be presented as a single uninterrupted performance and last not more than seven minutes.
5. If a performance goes over the prescribed time limit, the student will be asked to stop. A timing device will indicate when the seven minutes are over.
6. A total of ten minutes per student will be allocated for preparation, performance and clearing the space. No additional time can be allowed. Students should be mindful of these time restrictions when preparing stagecraft for the solo performance.
7. The performance will use a single clearly lit space. No changes to the lighting grid are allowed.
8. One table and two chairs will be provided in the examination room for students to use in the performance if they wish. Any additional props, if required, must be carried into the examination room by the student alone, and within the allotted time.
9. Students are not permitted to bring any objects or substances deemed hazardous or illegal into the performance examination venue. All actual and imitation weapons are prohibited. The use of such items is not permitted in the performance. Students are advised not to use any materials or props in the performance that may cause or that may be seen to cause injury to themselves or others.
10. The use of open flames, including candles and matches, is not permitted in the performance.
11. Students must ensure that any props, costumes (including footwear) or other aspects of their performance do not, in any way, damage the performance space. Students are responsible for the cleaning up and removal of any materials they bring into the space for their performance.
12. Students will be allocated an examination room at the performance examination venue in which to perform. Students and their teachers are not permitted to request a change of room.
13. Only the panel of assessors and any personnel authorised by the VCAA will be allowed in the examination room with the student during the examination.
14. Students may choose to perform to the assessors as audience or to an imagined audience, or both.
15. Students must not walk behind and/or touch and/or approach assessors during the examination.
16. The assessors’ table is for assessment purposes. Students are not to place objects on the assessors’ table or use the table in any way as part of their performance.

Statement of Intention
1. The form for the 2013 Statement of Intention is published on page 19.
2. Immediately prior to their performance, students are required to present three copies of the Statement of Intention to the panel of assessors. The statement should not exceed 100 words.
3. The purpose of the Statement of Intention is to highlight aspects of the student’s interpretation that they would like to bring to the assessors’ attention, for example
   • explanation/clarification of decisions made in their interpretation of the prescribed structure
   • give reasons for choices made (for example, for the use of costume, prop, accent, symbol).
4. Students should not simply describe their character by rewriting the performance focus.
5. The Statement of Intention will not be assessed.
Prescribed structures
1. Students are required to prepare a solo performance using one of the following 10 prescribed structures. Marks will not be awarded for performances that do not use one of the prescribed structures.
2. Each prescribed structure is made up of the following: character, stimulus, performance focus, performance style, theatrical convention, dramatic element and reference material. The following explanations should be used when preparing the solo performance.
   • Character – the main character to be depicted in the performance
   • Stimulus – the source of information that must be used in the development of the character and must be evident throughout the performance
   • Performance focus – information that provides a context for the character
     Students are required to present this information in their performance, incorporating the specific details that are identified in the three dot points and in the opening sentences.
     The three dot points
     - DP1 begins with the word recreates and requires students to present material that is researched directly from the stimulus.
     - DP2 begins with the word creates and requires students to invent material that might or could have happened.
     - DP3 requires students to move beyond the stimulus and to respond to the scenario outlined using imagination and creativity.
     The opening sentences
     - give background to the character
     - indicate where and when the performance takes place
     - establish the audience
     - provide insight into the emotional state of the character.

All aspects of the performance focus must be included in the performance.

Each aspect of the performance focus does not have to be given equal emphasis during the performance. Unless otherwise indicated, aspects of the performance focus may be performed in any order.
   • Performance style – the prescribed performance style(s) is explained in the Terminology section of the examination paper. The prescribed style(s) must be used throughout the performance.
   • Theatrical conventions – the following theatrical conventions will be assessed in all performances: disjointed time sequences, transformation of character, transformation of place and transformation of object. In addition, one theatrical convention will be specifically prescribed for each character and it must be used during the performance. More conventions may be added as appropriate.
   • Dramatic elements – one dramatic element will be specifically prescribed for each character and it must be used during the performance. The dramatic element to be prescribed will be selected from the following list: climax, conflict, contrast, language, mood, rhythm, sound and symbol. Students may use additional elements as appropriate. Focus, space, tension and timing are dramatic elements that are essential to, and must be present in, every performance.
   • Reference material – resources are provided as recommendations. This list is not exhaustive and students should undertake research when developing their character(s) for performance. Please note: if a resource is also listed under Stimulus, it must be used in the development of the character and must be evident throughout the performance.
3. The emphasis in performance must be on action rather than narration; doing rather than telling.
4. A Terminology section is provided. Students should consult this for explanations of performance styles and theatrical conventions, as prescribed in the examination.
Notes for Drama Solo Performance examination 2013

• While the VCAA considers all the structures in this examination suitable for study, teachers should be aware that, in some instances, sensitivity might be needed where particular issues or themes are explored. Teachers should make themselves aware of the issues and themes that are contained in the structures prior to the commencement of Unit 4 so that they can advise students appropriately.

• Schools should check the local availability of required stimulus material and resources prior to beginning Unit 4. Some materials may not be immediately available.

• Students and teachers should be aware that websites, including Wikipedia, may contain information that has been altered since the publication of the examination paper.

• Where a dot point in a particular structure asks for moments or aspects, at least two instances of the requirement must be evident in the performance.

• Where a dot point in a particular structure asks for a montage of dramatic images, three or more images, closely linked, must be evident in the performance.

• Students and teachers are reminded that, in addition to the one theatrical convention prescribed in each structure, disjointed time sequences, transformation of character, transformation of place and transformation of object must be demonstrated in every performance.

• When making performance choices, students and teachers need to note that all characters must be portrayed in the gender identified in the prescribed structure.

• All enquiries regarding the Drama Solo Performance examination should be forwarded to Kris Allen, Project Manager, Assessment, telephone: (03) 9225 2356 or Glenn Martin, Project Manager, Assessment, telephone: (03) 9225 2212.

Character
The Master of Suspense: Alfred Hitchcock

Stimulus
The career of Alfred Hitchcock

Performance focus
Create a solo performance based on the person Alfred Hitchcock.
On the film set of the remake of Rear Window in 2013, the haunting master of suspense surprises everyone when he makes an unexpected cameo appearance and berates the young director for her/his lack of directorial skill. In doing this, he
- recreates a montage of dramatic images that shows how he built suspense when directing the original film Rear Window in 1954
- creates a scene that shows how he would transform a current television soap opera or reality show using his ‘Hitchcockian’ techniques
- creates a scene that explores how what frightens people has changed over time.

Character
The Shrew: Katherina (Kate)

Stimulus
The play The Taming of the Shrew by William Shakespeare (any edition)

Performance focus
Create a solo performance based on the character of Katherina (Kate).
On the eve of her daughter’s wedding, a well-seasoned Katherina attempts to reassure the cold-footed bride-to-be that marriage requires an element of compromise. To do this, she
- recreates moments of her ‘taming’, from when she first met Petruchio to her final speech ‘Fi, fie, unknit that threat’ning unkind brow’ (Act V, Scene 2)
- creates a scene that shows how she went about ‘taming’ her husband to suit her ways
- creates a scene that explores how the meaning of marriage has changed over time.

TERMINOLOGY

The explanations listed below provide direction for teachers and students in the development of the Drama Solo Performance examination.

Non-naturalistic
This term is a broad category for all performance styles that are not dependent on the lifelike representation of everyday life. Non-naturalistic performance styles are not dependent on naturalistic characteristics to establish meaning. In non-naturalistic performance, the actor does not attempt to recreate, on the stage, life as it is lived. Non-naturalistic performance is characterised by a manipulation of character, time, place and object as well as the narrative elements of the drama.

Create
To enact for an audience situations and conversations that may be informed by material other than the stimulus, such as reference material. The emphasis in the creation must be on action rather than narration; doing rather than telling.

Recreate
To re-enact situations and conversations that are informed by the stimulus. The emphasis in the recreation must be on action rather than narration; doing rather than telling.

Caricature
Caricature is an exaggeration of a character that is often ludicrous or grotesque. It can be comic, at times derogatory, and with the intention to ridicule.

Climax
The moment of highest dramatic tension in a performance, when things change or reach a crisis point and may lead to a resolution.

Comedy
A dramatic style that is associated with such notions as amusement, jollity, gaiety, fun and humour. May include complex and sophisticated techniques that are sometimes referred to as ‘high’ comedy or ‘low’ comic aspects such as slapstick and bawdiness.

Conflict
A struggle within a character and/or between characters. Conflict may be between a character and some obstacle.

Contrast
Highlight differences through the juxtaposition of dramatic action and sound.

Disjointed time sequences
Dramatic structure that does not unfold chronologically. Past, present and future events in the plot are performed in a non-sequential order.

Dramatic irony
A difference of awareness between actor and audience: when words and actions possess significance that the audience understands, but the character does not. For example, when a character says to another, ‘I’ll see you tomorrow!’ and the audience (but not the character) knows that the character will die before morning.
Elizabethan theatre
Notable conventions of this style of theatre included blank verse using iambic pentameter, the play-within-a-play, the soliloquy, the aside and the masque. Acting was stylised and gestured. The actors, known as ‘players’, often wore contemporary Elizabethan dress. Fixed scenery was minimal. The players relied more on easily portable props.

Epic theatre
A style of presentation that tells a story, usually historical, on a large scale, and includes a number of people in a series of events over a long time. It aims at the intellect rather than engaging the emotions and often uses devices such as ‘alienation’. Its episodic style may contain conventions such as narrative, songs, signs, use of mask and movement.

Exaggerated movement
Exaggerated movement includes action that is overstated, drawn larger than life; often for the purpose of ridicule.

Farce
A style of comedy that aims to entertain by means of unlikely and extravagant, yet often possible, situations, disguise and mistaken identity. It is usually characterised by witty repartee, broad satire and improbable or absurd situations based on coincidence and misunderstanding. Farce uses rapid shifts in action and emotion, verbal humour and fast-paced action that often culminates in an elaborate chase scene.

Film noir
A style characterised by a sense of menace and including elements such as the femme fatale, cynical characters, sleazy settings, flashbacks and voice-overs, and foreboding background music.

Heightened use of language
Heightened use of language is the poetic and exaggerated use of language. It includes a deliberate choice of words whose syntax, alliteration and rhyming patterns enhance the dramatic statement. Intended meaning is enhanced through the use of non-conventional and non-naturalistic dialogue.

Language
The use of verbal and vocal sounds to enhance dramatic meaning.

Magic realism
Magic realism mingles realistic portrayals of ordinary events and characters with elements of fantasy and myth, creating a rich, frequently disquieting world that is familiar and dreamlike.

Montage
In contemporary theatre, a montage is a juxtaposition of dramatic images, often presented in rapid succession. The dramatic images are closely linked and presented to create an overall impression, and/or a summary of events/actions and/or an introduction to events/actions.

Mood
The emotional feeling that is created in a performance.

Rhythm
A regular pattern of sounds, words or actions.
Stillness and silence
To be found where there is an absence of sound and an absence of movement, used to enhance dramatic effect. Stillness and silence should both happen at the same time.

Song
Musical interpretation of text using the actor’s own voice at the time of performance (not prerecorded).

Sound
The use of voice, recorded/live music or noise in order to create an effect or aural accompaniment to action.

Symbol
Something that suggests something else. Actors may use a prop symbolically or may make a symbolic gesture with their body or voice.

Transformation of character
The actor manipulates expressive skills to create characters in performance. A change in character, therefore, requires modification of the focus and manner of use of expressive skills by the actor. Additions of mask or costume may enhance the character transformation, but does not constitute transformation unless accompanied by communicable changes in the use of expressive skills.

Transformation of object
An object(s) is endowed with a variety of meanings by the actor.

Transformation of place
The actor creates more than one place or setting during the performance and does so without the use of scenery. The actor can communicate transformation of place to an audience through the context that they create for the performance and through the use of objects and space in symbolic ways. Transformation of place can be achieved through the transformation of props (real and imagined) and/or through the use of expressive skills alone.
