Case study

The Daily Swell is a local print and online newspaper. It recently published the following article about a local business.

Regional Community Hub for All

Tessa Adams and Charlie Liu opened Ocean Skate Hub in 2017. It is a social enterprise aimed at servicing the needs of the local youth community. It offers indoor and outdoor skate parks, and youth and homework clubs. It also operates a sports shop and cafe.

After finishing school, Charlie completed a Sports Management degree and Tessa completed a Commerce degree. Having both worked in their chosen fields for several years, Tessa and Charlie recently moved from the city back to their hometown, where they began setting up their business enterprise. Charlie commented that ‘we wanted to offer a place where young people from the community could come and try different activities, socialise and gain some new skills’.

After carrying out their research into what financial assistance was available, Tessa and Charlie applied for support through a government initiative called Social Enterprise Finance Australia (SEFA).

SEFA provides finance solutions to mission-led organisations and is deeply committed to fostering positive social and environmental impacts in communities across Australia. SEFA is also there to help new business ventures, like Ocean Skate Hub, build their capacity to manage debt and become financially sustainable.

‘We highly value the intensive support we received from SEFA. They helped us put together a rock-solid business case’, said Tessa.

Ocean Skate Hub uses its website and social media to provide information to customers and has launched an app to let members book activity sessions. Members are encouraged to give feedback to the organisation to help it meet its aims of improving customer service and finding interesting activities for all users.

All employees are from the local area, and Tessa and Charlie are passionate about keeping all services within the region. Their preference is for staff training to be carried out within the business; however, this is proving to be challenging for Ocean Skate Hub to achieve, and Tessa and Charlie feel they may have to outsource staff training in the future.

With the success of the business behind them, Tessa and Charlie have big plans for expansion in 2019 to provide services for the whole community, not just its youth. These include IT classes for the elderly, as well as photography, cooking, woodwork and gardening classes for all ages.

‘With all these exciting changes planned for 2019, we will be relaunching as “Ocean Hub” to better reflect the expanded range of community activities that will soon be available’, Charlie said.

Mayor Colin Sprey commented that ‘it is encouraging to see our young entrepreneurs giving back to their community’.
Question 1 (2 marks)
Describe one feature of a social enterprise like Ocean Skate Hub.
Question 2 (6 marks)
Describe the key elements of Ocean Skate Hub’s operations system.

Question 3 (5 marks)
Explain how Ocean Skate Hub could apply the principles of the Force Field Analysis theory (Lewin) in implementing its expansion plans for 2019.
Question 4 (7 marks)

Employee wages and conditions of work are currently determined via the Sporting Organisations Award 2010. However, Tessa and Charlie are considering establishing an agreement.

Explain awards and agreements as methods of establishing employee wages and conditions of work. Propose and justify which method Tessa and Charlie should adopt.
Question 5 (5 marks)
Outline the interests of two relevant stakeholders of Ocean Skate Hub. Explain how these interests may be in conflict.
