Solo performance examination

Monday 4 October to Sunday 31 October

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

Performance examination conditions

1. The examination will be set and marked by panels appointed by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority.
2. Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority examination rules will apply. Details of these rules are published annually in the VCE Administrative Handbook.
3. The performance venue is set annually by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority.
4. The solo performance must not last more than SEVEN MINUTES and will be presented as a single uninterrupted performance.
5. If a performance goes over the SEVEN MINUTES time limit the student will be asked to stop. A timing device will indicate when the SEVEN MINUTES are over.
6. A total of ten minutes per student will be allocated for preparation, performance and clearing the space. No additional time can be allowed. When preparing stagecraft for the solo performance, students should be mindful of these restrictions.
7. The performance will use a single clearly lit space. No changes to the lighting grid are allowed.
8. One table and two chairs will be provided in the examination room for students to use in performance if they wish.
9. Students are not permitted to bring any objects (including actual or imitation weapons) or substances deemed hazardous or illegal in to the performance examination venue. The use of such items is not permitted in the performance.
10. Only the panel of assessors will be allowed in the examination room with the student during the examination.
11. Students may choose to perform to the assessors as audience or to an imagined audience, or both.

Statement of Intention

1. A pro forma for the Statement of Intention will be published annually by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority.
2. Immediately prior to performance students are required to present three copies of the Statement of Intention to the panel of assessors. The Statement should not exceed 100 words.
3. The purpose of the Statement of Intention is to highlight aspects of the student's interpretation that they would like to bring to the assessors' attention, for example:
 - clarify decisions made in their interpretation of the prescribed structure
 - give reasons for choices made (for example, for use of costume, prop, accent, symbol).
4. Students should not simply describe their character by rewriting the performance focus.
5. The Statement of Intention will not be assessed.

Prescribed structures

1. Students are required to prepare a solo performance using one of the following prescribed structures.
2. Students must select from the list of ten prescribed structures. Marks will not be awarded for performances that do not use one of the prescribed structures.
3. Each prescribed structure is made up of the following: character, stimulus, performance focus, performance style, theatrical conventions, dramatic elements, reference material.
 - Character: the main character to be depicted in the performance.
 - Stimulus: the source of information which must be used in the development of the character.
 - Performance focus: information about the character that must be portrayed in the performance. This information is given in an opening sentence(s) and a series of dot points. All of this must be included in the performance. The dot points do not have to be given equal emphasis during the performance, nor do they have to be performed in the same order as in the prescribed structure.

- Performance style: the prescribed performance style is explained in the Terminology section of the examination paper. The prescribed style must be used throughout the performance.
 - Theatrical conventions: two theatrical conventions are given for each prescribed structure and they must be used during the performance. Additional conventions may be added as appropriate.
 - Dramatic elements: the following dramatic elements will be assessed in all performances: focus, space, tension and timing. In addition two dramatic elements will be specifically prescribed for each character. The dramatic elements to be prescribed will be selected from the following list: climax, conflict, contrast, mood, rhythm, sound and symbol.
 - Reference material: resource(s) are provided as recommendations. This list is not exhaustive and students should undertake research in developing their character(s) for performance. Please note: if a resource is listed under Stimulus, it must be used in the development of the performance.
4. When a prescribed structure includes the word recreates, students are required to re-enact situations and conversations for an audience. The emphasis in the recreation must be on action rather than narration; doing rather than telling. (See Terminology)
 5. A Terminology section is provided. Students should consult this for explanations of performance styles and theatrical conventions as prescribed in the examination.

TERMINOLOGY

The explanations listed below provide direction for teachers and students in the development of the Drama Solo Performance examination.

Non-naturalistic

This term is a broad category for all performance styles that are not dependent on the lifelike representation of everyday life. Non-naturalistic performance styles are not dependent on naturalistic characteristics to establish meaning. In non-naturalistic performance, the actor does not attempt to recreate on the stage life as it is lived. Non-naturalistic performance is characterised by a manipulation of time and space as well as the narrative elements of the drama.

Recreate

To re-enact situations and conversations for an audience. The emphasis in the recreation must be on action rather than narration; doing rather than telling.

Theatre of the absurd

Dramatisations centred on the futility of life. Language is often clichéd or trite. Activity is repetitious and/or meaningless. Character(s) may be inappropriate to the given situation. The tone can be serious and at the same time comic and/or ironic.

Morality plays

A medieval play form in which characters represent human virtues and vices such as good, evil and so on. The overall intention of the play is to teach a moral lesson. The tone can be both comical and serious. In medieval times the plays were performed by acting troupes.

Pythonesque comedy

Denoting a type of British humour that is absurd, radical and zany. It tends towards the surreal and was first seen in the 1970s TV comedy show ‘Monty Python’s Flying Circus’. Sketches were often unpredictable and rarely had a punchline. The style included parodied figures of social classes, political and religious commentary.

Transformation of character

The actor manipulates expressive skills to create characters in performance. A change in character therefore requires modification of the focus and manner of use of expressive skills by the actors. Additions of mask or costume may enhance the character transformation but does not constitute transformation unless accompanied by communicable changes in the use of expressive skills.

Transformation of place

The actor creates more than one place or setting during the performance and does so without the use of scenery. The actor can communicate transformation of place to an audience through the context they create for the performance and/or through the use of objects and space in symbolic ways. Transformation of place can be achieved through the transformation of the properties (real and imagined) and/or through the use of expressive skills alone.

Transformation of object

An object(s) is endowed with a variety of meanings by the actor.

Dance

Physical movement used to express an emotion, idea or concept, usually rhythmic, and may be accompanied by music.

Song

Musical interpretation of text using the actor's own voice at the time of performance (not prerecorded).

Disjointed time sequences

Dramatic structure that does not unfold chronologically. Past, present and future events in the plot are performed in a non-sequential order.

Pathos

Pathos is a state which evokes a feeling of pity or sadness in the audience, for example the power of stirring tender or melancholy emotion. Pathos may be associated with comedy and tragedy.

Heightened use of language

Heightened use of language is poetic and exaggerated use of language. It includes the deliberate choice of words whose syntax, alliteration and rhyming patterns enhance the dramatic statement. Intended meaning is enhanced through the use of non-conventional and non-naturalistic dialogue.

Exaggerated movement

Exaggerated movement includes action that is overstated, drawn larger than life; often for the purpose of ridicule.

Satire

The use of sarcasm, irony and ridicule in denouncing, exposing or deriding vice, folly and abuse. Can be achieved through gesture, tone, word.

Caricature

Caricature is an exaggeration of a character that is often ludicrous or grotesque. It can be comic, at times derogatory, and with the intention of ridicule.

Comedy

A dramatic style associated with such notions as amusement, jollity, gaiety, fun and humour. May include complex and sophisticated techniques sometimes referred to as 'high' comedy, or 'low' comic aspects such as slapstick and bawdiness.

Lyrical and symbolic

This requires that the student characterise the work with poetic motion. This may be done by the use of verse, dialogue or movement. It may also be achieved through the selection of imagery and action. It is allied to the use of symbol which provides definition for metaphors, gestures or objects and gives specific meanings to the written and performance texts.

Vignettes

A short scene or sketch based around a character.
