      Do you agree?

   OR

   ii. ‘In This Boy’s Life, Wolff presents an America that offers little opportunity for prosperity.’
      Discuss.
SECTION B – Comparative analysis of texts

Instructions for Section B

Section B requires students to write a comparative analysis of a selected pair of texts in response to one topic (either i. or ii.) on one pair of texts.

Your response should analyse how the two texts present ideas and/or issues, and should be supported by close reference to both texts in the pair.

If you choose to write on a multimodal text in Section A, you must not write on a text pair that includes a multimodal text in Section B.

In the answer book, indicate which text pair you have chosen to write on and whether you have chosen to answer i. or ii.

Your response will be assessed according to the assessment criteria set out on page 14 of this book.

Section B is worth one-third of the total marks for the examination.
Pair 1 Tracks by Robyn Davidson and Into the Wild directed by Sean Penn

i. Compare the ways in which characters in Tracks and Into the Wild seek to discover what really matters to them.

OR

ii. Compare how, in Tracks and Into the Wild, the natural environment is both welcoming and hostile.

Pair 2 Invictus directed by Clint Eastwood and Ransom by David Malouf

i. ‘Revenge is futile. Forgiveness is liberating.’
   Compare how the two texts examine revenge and forgiveness.

OR

ii. “The opportunity to act for ourselves. To try something that might force events into a different course.” (Ransom)
   Compare the ways the two texts explore opportunities for change.

Pair 3 Stasiland by Anna Funder and Nineteen Eighty-Four by George Orwell

i. “People were crazy with pain and secrets.” (Stasiland)
   “… if you want to keep a secret you must also hide it from yourself.” (Nineteen Eighty-Four)
   Compare how secrets affect the characters in these texts.

OR

ii. Compare the ways the two texts show that in order to retain power authorities rewrite history.

Pair 4 Joyful Strains: Making Australia Home by Kent MacCarter and Ali Lemer (eds), and The Namesake by Jhumpa Lahiri

i. ‘It is possible to never feel completely at home in a new country.’
   Compare how these two texts examine this possibility.

OR

ii. ‘For many migrant families, it is the desires and experiences of previous generations that shape their own.’
   Compare how this idea is explored in these texts.
Pair 5  The Crucible by Arthur Miller and Year of Wonders: A Novel of the Plague by Geraldine Brooks

i. Compare how The Crucible and Year of Wonders explore issues of victimisation and blame.

OR

ii. ‘Ordinary people sometimes make extraordinary sacrifices for others.’
Compare how this idea is demonstrated in these texts.

Pair 6  Bombshells by Joanna Murray-Smith and The Penelopiad: The Myth of Penelope and Odysseus by Margaret Atwood

i. Compare the ways that women view other women in both Bombshells and The Penelopiad.

OR

ii. Compare what the two texts say about individuals finding their own solutions to life’s challenges.

Pair 7  Black Diggers by Tom Wright and The Longest Memory by Fred D’Aguiar

i. “The proper word is fair.” (The Longest Memory)
   “… I wish to point out the gross injustice …” (Black Diggers)
Compare what these texts say about fairness and justice.

OR

ii. Compare how these texts explore the importance of belonging.

Pair 8  I Am Malala: The Girl Who Stood Up for Education and Was Shot by the Taliban by Malala Yousafzai with Christina Lamb, and Made in Dagenham directed by Nigel Cole

i. Compare how the issue of gender inequality is explored in the two texts.

OR

ii. ‘Power comes from unity and persistence.’
Compare how the issue of commitment to a cause is presented in the two texts.
SECTION C – Argument and persuasive language

Instructions for Section C
Section C requires students to write an analysis of the ways in which argument and language are used to persuade others to share a point(s) of view.
Read the background information on this page and the material on pages 12 and 13, and write an analytical response to the task below.
For the purposes of this task, the term ‘language’ refers to written, spoken and visual language.
Your response will be assessed according to the assessment criteria set out on page 14 of this book.
Section C will be worth one-third of the total marks for the examination.

Task
Write an analysis of the ways in which argument and written and visual language are used in the material on pages 12 and 13 to try to persuade others to share the points of view presented.

Background information
The Principal of Spire Primary School writes a weekly message for the school’s website. She invites comments, favourable or unfavourable, to be posted after her message appears. The Principal has been concerned about the amount of packaging waste she has seen around the school. Her message about this concern and a response from one parent are on pages 12 and 13.
Dear parents of Spire Primary School,

I write to you this week to introduce a new concept for us all to think about. ‘Oh, no!’ I hear you say, ‘She has got another idea!’ It is true that I often take this school down new paths, especially in areas that affect the preservation of our planet. We are the only local school that has a ‘Walk/Pedal to School Day’ once a week, rather than once a month or even once a term! We have four different bins for our waste products, not just three! Our vegetable garden is truly organic and our pet hens scratch and roam as they wish! But I think we at Spire can do more. We are responsible for the future of our world.

I have become increasingly concerned about the amount of superfluous packaging in our everyday lives. The newspaper in plastic, hamburgers in boxes, individual packets of tissues, little packages of rice crackers and chips. You might say that the material from which these containers are made are biodegradable or recyclable – but they still exist, are still clogging our bins and eventually, our country. If we do not do something positive about this now, the environmental damage will be irreversible.

Last week I walked around the grounds at recess time, talking as I do with any student who wanted to chat – many, I am glad to say. I kept seeing your children holding little plastic packets with a few biscuits in one side and some cheese spread in the other. When the children had eaten, the little packets became waste material! I have found myself wondering why those biscuits could not have been spread with cheese at home and brought to school in a re-usable container. Other children were drinking juice from cardboard boxes. Why not a washable plastic bottle? At our canteen I saw a child buy a sushi roll and apply soy sauce from a cute little plastic fish. That fish ended up on the ground until I asked the student to put it in the bin – more rubbish! Why not use a common flask from which the sauce could be pumped at the counter? (For that matter, how awful are those little tomato sauce containers given with meat pies – lethal if flipped in your eye!)
I am asking (and, in the case of the canteen, insisting) that we do away with unnecessary packaging. I want the canteen to sell products that have no need for it. I hope to influence the staff to replace the coffee pod machine – those multiplying little pods – with a machine that filters the coffee straight into a jug. I might even ask our teachers to bring out our old communal teapot and do away with the pretty teabags!

How many nights a week do you eat takeaway? Plastic boxes of beef in black bean sauce, plastic bags of lettuce for the paper bag of spring rolls, little plastic containers of sauces – all these things increase the mounds of waste products. I am told you can buy carrots ready peeled, washed and sliced – in another plastic bag – but why not prepare your own snacks for the lunch box?

I know reducing our packaging will be a challenge at school and at home but we must confront it for the sake of future generations. I will be implementing a curriculum unit to teach students about sustainability at every year level.

As usual, your comments are welcome.

Denise Walker, Principal

Comments (1)

Fair go, Denise. My partner and I have always supported your green ideas. We are already doing what we can. Our kids walk to school every day! They are really interested in what rubbish goes where. They love the chooks and the garden. But mornings are chaos in our house as it is. How much worse if we have to spread cheese on biscuits (and won’t they go soggy)? Have you any idea how many plastic bottles we have lost over our time at Spire? And filling them also takes time. Both of us parents go to work.

The soy sauce – what a mess little kids will make of pumping that! As I recall, the Parents and Friends donated the coffee pod machine for the staff – do you want it to join the hard rubbish? I would think we had passed the days when civilised people were happy to all drink the same stewed tea.

Finally, why begrudge us all the odd easy night off? Takeaway food is often a lifesaver for busy people.

It is a great shame if, for a vague principle, our lives become more difficult and we can’t enjoy the benefits of 21st-century living.

Assessment criteria

Section A will be assessed against the following criteria:
• knowledge and understanding of the text, and the ideas and issues it explores
• development of a coherent analysis in response to the topic
• use of textual evidence to support the interpretation
• control and effectiveness of language use, as appropriate to the task

Section B will be assessed against the following criteria:
• knowledge and understanding of both texts, and the ideas and issues they present
• discussion of meaningful connections, similarities or differences between the texts, in response to the topic
• use of textual evidence to support the comparative analysis
• control and effectiveness of language use, as appropriate to the task

Section C will be assessed against the following criteria:
• understanding of the argument(s) presented and point(s) of view expressed
• analysis of ways in which language and visual features are used to present an argument and to persuade
• control and effectiveness of language use, as appropriate to the task
