GENERAL COMMENTS
Students demonstrated their understanding and skills by completing all parts of the 2014 Korean Second Language written examination. All questions on the examination were answered adequately as instructed for each section.

Students are reminded that the amount of space given on the examination paper and the marks allocated are a good indication of the length of answer required. Students should carefully check whether the question requires an answer in point form or in full sentences.

In Section 3 – Writing in Korean, the most popular question was Question 9, where students were required to write a script for an evaluative speech on having a gap year after graduating high school. Overall, students displayed a good understanding of the different text types and kinds of writing.

Part B – Answer in Korean

Text 6
Most students understood the purpose of the task as well as the scenario of the question. High-scoring students demonstrated their ability to process information in order to reproduce a required message. These students were able to structure the main information well and manipulate language to convey information accurately and effectively in Korean.

Question 6
- 방문하게 된 동기
- 자신이 선택한 직업
- 1단계 경험-직업 소개
- 2단계 경험-정보 제공
- 3단계 경험-워크샵 실습
- motivation
- job chosen
- 1st stage: job description
- 2nd stage: detailed job information
- 3rd stage: hands-on workshop

Section 3 – Writing in Korean
This section assessed students’ ability to express their ideas through the creation of an original text in Korean on one of the five topics given. The choices comprised an imaginative story; an informal, informative letter; an evaluative script for a speech; a personal diary; and a formal, persuasive letter.
Overall, students displayed good knowledge of the characteristics of the text type and the style of writing they chose. Students’ responses were assessed in terms of content, structure and language.

Question 7
Students were required to write a short story beginning with a given sentence. All students who selected this question handled both text type and kind of writing well. High-scoring students were able to produce an interesting plot and their responses displayed common characteristics as follows:
- a strong sense of an imaginative story, containing characters, setting and event
- clear development of a story in each paragraph, including an unexpected climax
- unique expressions as well as appropriate use of vocabulary and grammar.

Question 8
Students were required to write an informal letter, providing information on popular sports in Australia. Students who selected this question mentioned various sports, such as tennis, soccer, cricket, horse racing and AFL. It was noticed that a number of students only focused on giving information on their chosen sports and did not explain the reasons for their popularity. It is very important for students to read questions carefully in order to identify all the requirements of the question prior to planning their answers.

Question 9
This question was the most popular choice. Students were required to write a script for a speech, evaluating the advantages and disadvantages of having a gap year after graduating from high school. Most students who selected this question presented logical and balanced ideas for both positive and negative views on the topic. High-scoring students demonstrated their ability to address their main points with sufficient supporting ideas. They skilfully maintained engaging language, creating the sense that they were giving a speech to an audience.

Question 10
This question was the second most popular choice this year. Students were required to write a diary entry about their cultural experience in Seoul, South Korea. Students who selected this question presented an interesting experience caused by cultural differences, such as spicy food, table manners, addressing people by their name and commonly accepted body language. Some low-scoring students were unable to highlight cultural clashes as required and only focused on travel experiences during their trip to Korea.

Question 11
Students were required to write a persuasive formal letter to the Minister for Transport, proposing to change the eligible age for holding a driver’s licence. Students who selected the question presented very convincing reasons for their argument, such as safety issues, usefulness and responsibility. High-scoring students displayed their strengths in the following aspects:
- Convincing arguments were presented in a well-structured manner and were well supported by relevant information, such as examples, statistics and experts’ statements.
- A topic sentence clearly indicated the main argument of each paragraph.
- Each paragraph in the body opened with an appropriate linking word, such as 우선, 뿐만 아니라, 마지막으로, 한편
- In the conclusion, the purpose of the letter and the writer’s main arguments were briefly revisited in a persuasive and effective manner.
