SECTION A – Narrative

Instructions for Section A
Answer both questions from this section. You are required to use different texts to answer each question.

The texts I studied for narrative this year are

1. __________________________________________
2. __________________________________________

Question 1
With reference to one of the texts studied for narrative, describe how any two of the following production elements are used to contribute to the development of the overall narrative.

- camera/film techniques
- editing
- sound

Question 2
In the closing sequence(s) of a narrative text, narrative possibilities introduced in the opening sequence(s) may be resolved. This resolution may not necessarily occur in ways that the audience expected. Other narrative possibilities may be left open and/or unresolved.

With reference to the other text you identified on page 2, discuss the way(s) in which the closing sequence(s) of the text resolve and/or leave unresolved narrative possibilities from the opening sequence(s).

MERRYVALE COLLEGE
CLASS OF 2004

The final year of school is a year of hard work and memorable events for all Year 12 students. Over the year, activities for Year 12 students include:

- study camp
- sporting event(s)
- school performances
- awards ceremony
- final day celebrations

In February, the Student Council approached the Unit 3–4 Media class to develop a plan and make preparations for the production of a media product for all Year 12 students to commemorate their final year at Merryvale College.

The Student Council wants the product to communicate the Year 12 experience for 2004 – the struggle and effort, the fun and the friendships, the significant and memorable moments.

The media product may include one, some or all of the events listed above. It may include other events not listed, but which are appropriate to the purpose of the product.

Products can be in any of the following media:

- film/videoanimation
- slide tape/presentation program/data show
- radio/audio
- photography and/or images
- print (newspaper or specialist magazines)
- multimedia
The medium or media form for your product is

Question 1
Create a design plan for a media product that meets the requirements of the Student Council.
Your design plan
• must be for the medium or media form you identified above
• may be for the whole product or for a part of the product.
Your design plan must
• include a statement about intention and audience
• name at least two design plan specifications
• include explanations of how you will use those two design plan specifications.
You may include visual representations.

SECTION D – Media influence

Instructions for Section D
Answer one question from this section as an extended response in the space provided.

Question 1
Some people claim that media forms and/or texts can have a range of influences on individuals and society. With reference to at least two communication theories and/or models
• describe at least two claims which are made about the extent of the media’s effect on its audience(s)
• analyse arguments and evidence which can be presented about each of the claims you have described.

OR

Question 2
Researchers and analysts differ as to how much effect the media has on audience attitudes and behaviour. They also draw on different communication theories and models to explain the effect that they claim the media has on its audience.
Discuss the relationship between the media and its audiences in one or more examples where the media is claimed to have had a particular influence on an identified audience.
Your response should
• refer to relevant communication theories and models
• refer to arguments and evidence given to support the claims made in the example(s) you discuss.

Indicate the question you have answered.
