IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Accreditation period
Units 1 and 2: 2005–2018
Units 3 and 4: 2005–2019

The accreditation period for Units 3 and 4 has been extended until 31 December 2019.

Other sources of information
The VCAA Bulletin is the only official source of changes to regulations and accredited studies. The VCAA Bulletin, including supplements, also regularly includes advice on VCE studies. It is the responsibility of each VCE teacher to refer to each issue of the VCAA Bulletin. The VCAA Bulletin is sent in hard copy to all VCE providers. It is available on the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority’s website at www.vcaa.vic.edu.au

To assist teachers in assessing school-assessed coursework in Units 3 and 4, the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

The current year’s VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook contains essential information on assessment and other procedures.

VCE providers
Throughout this study design the term ‘school’ is intended to include both schools and other VCE providers.

Photocopying
VCE schools only may photocopy parts of this study design for use by teachers.
Introduction

THE LANGUAGE
The language to be studied and assessed is the modern standard version of Indonesian.

RATIONALE
The study of a language other than English contributes to the overall education of students, most particularly in the area of communication, but also in the areas of cross-cultural understanding, cognitive development, literacy and general knowledge. It provides access to the culture of communities which use the language and promotes understanding of different attitudes and values within the wider Australian community and beyond.

The study of Indonesian develops students’ ability to understand and use the language of a country which is one of Australia’s closest neighbours and is one of the most populous countries in the world. Links between Australia and Indonesia have been strengthened in recent decades, in particular, in areas such as business, tourism and education. The study of Indonesian promotes the strengthening of these links.

The study of Indonesian also has a broader application in that it is closely related to Malay, and is understood in Malaysia and by Malay-speaking inhabitants of Singapore and Brunei.

Students may wish to study Indonesian as an academic subject for educational purposes or link this study to other areas of interest. Many tertiary institutions provide pathways for further study of Indonesian and Indonesian studies.

AIMS
This study is designed to enable students to:
• use Indonesian to communicate with others;
• understand and appreciate the cultural contexts in which Indonesian is used;
• understand their own culture(s) through the study of other cultures;
• understand language as a system;
Introduction

- make connections between Indonesian and English, and/or other languages;
- apply Indonesian to work, further study, training or leisure.

STRUCTURE

The study is made up of four units. Each unit deals with specific content and is designed to enable students to achieve a set of outcomes. Each outcome is described in terms of key knowledge and skills.

ENTRY

There are no prerequisites for entry into Units 1, 2 and 3. Students must undertake Unit 3 prior to undertaking Unit 4. Indonesian Second Language is designed for students who will, typically, have studied the language for at least 200 hours prior to the commencement of Unit 1. It is possible, however, that some students with less formal experience will also be able to meet the requirements successfully.

The study of Indonesian is offered at two levels in the VCE (Indonesian First Language and Indonesian Second Language). Entry into these levels is governed by eligibility criteria, which are monitored regularly and published on the VCAA website and in the VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook.

Units 1 to 4 are designed to be of an appropriate standard for the final years of secondary education. All VCE studies are benchmarked against comparable national and international curriculum.

DURATION

Each unit involves at least 50 hours of scheduled classroom instruction.

CHANGES TO THE STUDY DESIGN

During its period of accreditation minor changes to the study will be notified in the VCAA Bulletin. The VCAA Bulletin is the only source of changes to regulations and accredited studies and it is the responsibility of each VCE teacher to monitor changes or advice about VCE studies published in the VCAA Bulletin.

MONITORING FOR QUALITY

As part of ongoing monitoring and quality assurance, the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority will periodically undertake an audit of Indonesian Second Language to ensure the study is being taught and assessed as accredited. The details of the audit procedures and requirements are published annually in the VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook. Schools will be notified during the teaching year of schools and studies to be audited and the required material for submission.
SAFETY

It is the responsibility of the school to ensure that duty of care is exercised in relation to the health and safety of all students undertaking this study.

USE OF INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

In designing courses for this study teachers should incorporate information and communications technology where appropriate and applicable to the teaching and learning activities. The Advice for Teachers section provides specific examples of how information and communications technology can be used in this study.

KEY COMPETENCIES AND EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

This study offers a number of opportunities for students to develop key competencies and employability skills. The Advice for Teachers section provides specific examples of how students can demonstrate key competencies during learning activities and assessment tasks.

LEGISLATIVE COMPLIANCE

When collecting and using information, the provisions of privacy and copyright legislation, such as the Victorian Information Privacy Act 2000 and Health Records Act 2001, and the federal Privacy Act 1988 and Copyright Act 1968 must be met.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING OPTION

Schools wishing to offer the Vocational Education and Training (VET) option should refer to the VCAA LOTE VET supplement.
Assessment and reporting

SATISFACTORY COMPLETION

The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit. Designated assessment tasks are provided in the details for each unit. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment for Units 3 and 4.

Teachers must develop courses that provide opportunities for students to demonstrate achievement of outcomes. Examples of learning activities are provided in the Advice for Teachers section.

Schools will report a result for each unit to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority as S (Satisfactory) or N (Not Satisfactory).

Completion of a unit will be reported on the Statement of Results issued by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority as S (Satisfactory) or N (Not Satisfactory). Schools may report additional information on levels of achievement.

AUTHENTICATION

Work related to the outcomes will be accepted only if the teacher can attest that, to the best of their knowledge, all unacknowledged work is the student’s own. Teachers need to refer to the current year’s VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook for authentication procedures, and should note that all assessment tasks for Units 3 and 4 should be conducted in class time and under supervision.

LEVELS OF ACHIEVEMENT

Units 1 and 2

Procedures for the assessment of levels of achievement in Units 1 and 2 are a matter for school decision. Assessment of levels of achievement for these units will not be reported to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority. Schools may choose to report levels of achievement using grades, descriptive statements or other indicators.
Units 3 and 4
The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority will supervise the assessment of all students undertaking Units 3 and 4.

In Indonesian Second Language the student’s level of achievement will be determined by school-assessed coursework and two end-of-year examinations. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority will report the student’s level of performance on each assessment component as a grade from A+ to E or UG (ungraded). To receive a study score, students must achieve two or more graded assessments and receive S for both Units 3 and 4. The study score is reported on a scale of 0–50. It is a measure of how well the student performed in relation to all others who took the study. Teachers should refer to the current year’s VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook for details on graded assessment and calculation of the study score. Percentage contributions to the study score in Indonesian Second Language are as follows:

- Unit 3 school-assessed coursework: 25 per cent
- Unit 4 school-assessed coursework: 25 per cent
- Examinations*: oral component 12.5 per cent
  written component 37.5 per cent

Details of the assessment program are described in the sections on Units 3 and 4 in this study design.

A single grade is awarded.
Units 1–4: Common areas of study

The areas of study for Indonesian Second Language comprise themes and topics, text types, kinds of writing, vocabulary and grammar. They are common to all four units of the study, and are designed to be drawn upon in an integrated way, as appropriate to the linguistic needs of the student, and the outcomes for the unit.

The themes and topics are the vehicle through which the student will demonstrate achievement of the outcomes, in the sense that they form the subject of the activities and tasks the student undertakes.

The text types, kinds of writing, vocabulary and grammar are linked, both to each other, and to the themes and topics. Together, as common areas of study, they add a further layer of definition to the knowledge and skills required for successful achievement of the outcomes.

The common areas of study provide the opportunity for the student to build upon what is familiar, as well as develop knowledge and skills in new and more challenging areas.

THEMES, TOPICS AND SUB-TOPICS

There are three prescribed themes:

- The individual
- The Indonesian-speaking communities
- The changing world

These themes have a number of prescribed topics and suggested sub-topics. The placement of the topics under one or more of the three themes is intended to provide a particular perspective or perspectives for each of the topics. The suggested sub-topics expand on the topics, and are provided to guide the student and teacher as to how topics may be treated.

It is not expected that all topics will require the same amount of study time. The length of time and depth of treatment devoted to each topic will vary according to the outcomes being addressed, as well as the linguistic needs and interests of the student.

As well as acquiring the linguistic resources to function effectively as a non-specialist within all three themes, the student is required to undertake a detailed study in Units 3 and 4. This detailed study should relate to the prescribed themes and topics and be based on a selected sub-topic. For further details refer to pages 23 and 24.

TEXT TYPES

The student will be expected to be familiar with the following text types. Text types indicated with an asterisk (*) are those which the student may be expected to produce in the external examination. Teachers may introduce the student to a wider range of text types in the course of their teaching and learning program. (Characteristics of some text types are set out in the Advice for Teachers section.)

December 2018
KINDS OF WRITING

The student is expected to be familiar with, and be able to produce, the following five kinds of writing: personal, imaginative, persuasive, informative and evaluative. (Details of each kind of writing are published in the Advice for Teachers section.)

VOCABULARY

While there is no prescribed vocabulary list, it is expected that the student will be familiar with a range of vocabulary and idioms relevant to the topics prescribed in the study design. Students should be encouraged to use dictionaries. It is expected that teachers will assist students to develop the necessary skills and confidence to use dictionaries effectively. Suitable editions are listed in the Resources section of this study design. Information on the use of dictionaries in the end-of-year written examination is provided on page 31, and published annually in the VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook.

GRAMMAR

The student is expected to recognise and use the following grammatical items:

Phonology
- quality of vowel sounds
- the glottal stop, for example, bapak, tidak
- non-aspiration of t, d, b and p
- Indonesian trilled [r]
- nasalisation of verbal roots, for example, ny and ng, ngg sound
- pattern and rhythm
- intonation and stress

Verbs
- base-word verbs, for example:
  - ber-, ber...an
  - me-, me-kan, me-i, mem-per
  - ke...an
  - *ter-
  - active, passive and imperative forms with reduplication, for example, makan-makan, berlari-lari (repetitive, varied or non-specific action) surat-menyurat, berpamit-pamitan – (reciprocity)
  - with markers and modifiers, for example, sudah, telah, sedang, akan, harus, dapat, bisa, boleh, suka, ingin, mau, lagi, kembali
  - with negators, for example, tidak, belum
  - with accompanying prepositions, for example, bergantung pada, ingat akan, minta maaf atas, percaya pada
Nouns
- base-word nouns, for example:
  - ke...an
  - pe- / per-
  - pe...an / per...an
  - -an
  - -wan /-wati
- with reduplication, for example:
  - surat-surat kabar, adat-istiadat (plurality, showing variety)
  - obat-obatan (showing collectivity)
- with the negator, for example: bukan

Personal pronouns
- first person, for example, saya, aku, kami, kita
- second person, for example, kamu, Anda, engkau, kau, kalian, kamu sekalian, Anda sekalian
- third person, for example, dia, ia, beliau, mereka
- other terms used in the place of pronouns, for example, Bapak, Ibu, Adik, Kakak, Saudara, name of person
- with the negator, for example, bukan

Question markers
- siapa, apa, yang mana, mengapa, kenapa, kapan, di mana, ke mana, dari mana, bagaimana, berapa,-kah, (apa)bila, bilamana
- with other prepositions, for example, dari siapa, dengan apa, untuk siapa
- use of saja showing indefiniteness, for example, apa saja, di mana saja
- reduplication showing indefiniteness, for example, di mana-mana, apa-apa, siapa-siapa

Deictics
- ini, itu, ini, sin, sana, situ, begini, begitu

Quantifiers
- cardinal numbers
- collectives, for example, ketiga pemain, kami berenam, berpuluh-puluh, ratusan
- with terms of measurement, for example, meter, liter, gram, rupiah
- indefinite terms, for example, banyak, berbagai, beberapa, sedikit, semua, seluruh, segala
- ordinal numbers, for example, kesatu or pertama, kedua, kesepuluh
- fractions, for example, sepertiga
- classifiers, for example, orang buah, ekor (others as passive knowledge when encountered)
- singularity, for example, se-, satu, suatu
- plurality, for example, through duplication, through context, through use of para/kaum

Adjectives
- base-word adjectives such as meng...kan with adjectival function, for example, menyenangkan
- comparatives, for example:
  - se- + adjective,
  - sama + adjective + nya,
  - lebih/kurang + adjective + daripada,
  - yang/paling/ter- + adjective
- with degree markers, for example, tidak terlalu kecil, akan sangat senang, besar sekali
- with other modifiers, for example, harus lebih mudah, tidak sakit lagi
- with negators, for example, tidak, belum
Adverbs
- dengan + base, for example, dengan baik
- duplication of base, for example, diam-diam
- (se- +) -nya: setinggi-tingginya, sesungguhnya, rapanya

Prepositions
- akibat, antara, bersama, buat, dalam, dari, dekat, dengan, di, karena, ke, kecuali, kepada, lewat, melalui, mengenai, menaruh, oleh, pada, sama, sampai, sebab, sebagai, sejak, sekeliling, sekitar, selama, sepanjang, seperti, tanpa, tentang, untuk, akan, atas, bagi, selain, terhadap
- with locative nouns such as di bawah, ke muka, oleh karena, sampai dengan, di antara

Conjunctions
- agar, atau, bahwa, dan, dengan, di samping, hanya, kalau, karena, kecuali, kemudian, ketika, lalu, oleh karena (itu), sambil, sampai, seandainya, sebab, sebelum, sedangkan, sehingga, sejak, selain (itu), selama, seolah-olah, sesudah, setelah, setiap, supaya, tanpa, tetapi, tiap kali, untuk, walaupun, akan tetapi, akibat, asal, baik...maupun, dalam, demikian, jika...(maka), lagi (pula), melainkan, meskipun (begitu), namun, padahal, sebagai, sementara, serta, tidak hanya...tetapi juga

Interjections
- sialan, asyik, ayo, wah, aduh

Articles
- sang, para, si

Particles
- -kah,-lah

Phrases and sentences
- simple and more complex phrases, for example, berteriak keras-keras/tidak perlu merasa tersinggung
- single clauses, for example:
  - subject + predicate
  - subject + verb (+ phrase)
  - subject + verb + object (+ indirect object)
- compound clauses, for example, Dia rajin membaca, baik waktu dia masih mahasiswa, maupun setelah dia bekerja.
  Siapa pun yang minta, Pak Anwar selalu bersedia menolong
- use of in/itu to point to a particular referent in a noun phrase, for example, pakaian yang dilemparkan ke laut di Parangtritis itu
- use of adalah/ialah to mark the subject–predicate break, for example, engggururan tersembunyi di kota-kota besar adalah masalah yang serius
- use of yang as a relative-clause marker, for example, Tempat berpiknik yang paling disenangi oleh orang Jakarta. Kepala pabrik yang hanya mementingkan dirinya sendiri
- extension of basic sentences by addition of information on place, instrument, time, purpose, participant, means, similarity, cause
- use of -lah, jangan, tolong, coba, silakan
- use of passive to soften questions, for example:
  - with question words
  - with rising intonation
  - using bukan/belum/tidak at end of sentence
- exclamations, for example, with aduh, bukan main, alangkah, -nya
- emphatic sentences, use of -lah followed by yang
- active and passive sentences
- direct and indirect speech
Unit 1

AREAS OF STUDY
The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–16 of this study design.

OUTCOMES
For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of three outcomes.

Outcome 1
On completion of this unit the student should be able to establish and maintain a spoken or written exchange related to personal areas of experience.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• use structures related to describing, explaining and commenting on past, present or future events or experiences, both real and imaginary;
• use vocabulary and expressions appropriate to the topic area;
• apply conventions of informal conversation/correspondence, such as letter, fax, email, voicemail, telephone;
• use a range of question and answer forms;
• link and sequence ideas and information in written or spoken text;
• initiate, maintain and close an exchange;
• use appropriate intonation, stress, pitch, spelling and punctuation;
• self-correct/rephrase to maintain communication;
• recognise and respond to cues for turn taking;
• deal with unfamiliar vocabulary and structures, for example, ask for repetition and clarification;
• communicate in a range of text types; for example, letter, fax, email, voicemail and telephone, as well as face-to-face;
• use appropriate non-verbal forms of communication, such as eye contact and hand-shake.
Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to listen to, read and obtain information from spoken and written texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• recognise and use vocabulary, structures and content related to topics studied;
• recognise common patterns of word formation, cognates, grammatical markers, and use these to infer meaning;
• recognise the conventions of text types such as newspaper articles, radio commentary, reports, web pages, extracts;
• identify key words, main points and supporting ideas;
• order, classify and link items from various parts of the text;
• convey gist and global understanding as well as items of specific detail;
• establish and confirm meaning through re-reading, using headings and diagrams, and referring to dictionaries.

Outcome 3
On completion of this unit the student should be able to produce a personal response to a text focusing on real or imaginary experience.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• apply the conventions of text types; for example, short story, cartoon, journal;
• use structures related to explaining, describing, comparing and commenting on past, present and future events or experiences;
• use stylistic features, such as repetition, contrast and flashback;
• summarise, explain, compare and contrast experiences, opinions, ideas, feelings and reactions;
• link ideas, events and characters;
• select and make use of relevant reference materials;
• identify main ideas, events and sequences of action;
• provide personal comment/perspective on aspects of the texts;
• respond appropriately for the context, purpose and audience described.

ASSESSMENT

The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.
Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class and under supervision.

Demonstration of achievement of Outcomes 1, 2 and 3 must be based on the student’s performance on a selection of assessment tasks. Teachers must ensure that tasks selected are of comparable scope and demand, and that over the course of the unit, all three outcomes are addressed.

A total of four tasks should be selected from those listed below.

Outcome 1:
- informal conversation

  or

- reply to personal letter/fax/email.

Outcome 2:
- listen to spoken texts (e.g. conversations, interviews, broadcasts) to obtain information to complete notes, charts or tables in Indonesian or English

  and

- read written texts (e.g. extracts, advertisements, letters) to obtain information to complete notes, charts or tables in Indonesian or English.

Outcome 3:
- oral presentation

  or

- review

  or

- article.

It is expected that the student will respond in Indonesian to all assessment tasks that are selected to address Outcomes 1 and 3. Of the two tasks required for Outcome 2, one should require a response in Indonesian, and the other a response in English. Over the course of the unit, both oral and written skills in Indonesian should be assessed. Therefore if an oral task is selected to address Outcome 1, a written task should be selected to address Outcome 3, and vice versa.
Unit 2

AREAS OF STUDY

The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–16 of this study design.

OUTCOMES

For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of three outcomes.

Outcome 1

On completion of this unit the student should be able to participate in a spoken or written exchange related to making arrangements and completing transactions.

Key knowledge and skills

To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:

• use structures related to asking for or giving assistance or advice, suggesting, explaining, agreeing and disagreeing;
• use vocabulary and expressions appropriate to the topic areas;
• apply the conventions of a range of text types;
• use fillers, affirming phrases and formulaic expressions related to negotiation/transaction;
• make arrangements, come to agreements, and reach decisions;
• obtain and provide goods, services and public information;
• link and sequence ideas and demonstrate clarity of expression in spoken or written form;
• initiate, maintain, direct as appropriate, and close an exchange;
• use gesture, stance and facial expression to enhance meaning and persuade;
• use examples and reasons to support arguments, and to convince;
• use appropriate non-verbal forms of communication;
• respond appropriately for the context, purpose and audience described.
Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to listen to, read, and extract and use information and ideas from spoken and written texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
- use vocabulary, structures and content related to topics studied;
- apply the conventions of text types such as an interview or a newspaper report;
- use stylistic features such as contrast and repetition;
- infer meaning from linguistic and contextual features;
- classify, compare and predict information and ideas;
- summarise, explain and contrast ideas and information from different texts;
- infer points of view, opinions and ideas;
- extract and reorganise information and ideas from one text type to another;
- provide personal comment/perspective on aspects of texts;
- appreciate cultural aspects critical to understanding the text.

Outcome 3
On completion of this unit the student should be able to give expression to real or imaginary experience in spoken or written form.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
- apply the conventions of text types; for example, diary, story or letter;
- use structures related to describing, recounting, narrating and reflecting upon past, present or future events or experiences;
- use a range of appropriate vocabulary and expressions;
- use stylistic techniques such as repetition, questions and exclamations;
- structure writing to sequence main ideas/events and develop ideas logically;
- vary language for audience, context and purpose.

ASSESSMENT
The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class and under supervision.
Demonstration of the achievement of Outcomes 1, 2 and 3 must be based on the student’s performance on a selection of assessment tasks. Teachers must ensure that tasks selected are of comparable scope and demand, and that over the course of the unit, all three outcomes are addressed.

A total of four tasks should be selected from those listed below.

Outcome 1:
- formal letter, or fax, or email
  or
- role-play
  or
- interview.

Outcome 2:
- listen to spoken texts (e.g. conversations, interviews, broadcasts) and reorganise information and ideas in a different text type
  and
- read written texts (e.g. extracts, advertisements, letters) and reorganise information and ideas in a different text type.

Outcome 3:
- journal entry
  or
- personal account
  or
- short story.

It is expected that the texts used are in Indonesian and that the student respond in Indonesian to all assessment tasks selected. Over the course of the unit, both oral and written skills in Indonesian should be assessed. Therefore if an oral task is selected to address Outcome 1, a written task should be selected to address Outcome 3, and vice versa.
Units 3 and 4

DETAILED STUDY

The student is required to undertake a detailed study during Units 3 and 4. The student will be expected to discuss their detailed study in Section 2, Discussion, of the Oral Examination.

Over the course of Units 3 and 4, approximately 15 hours of scheduled class time should be devoted to the detailed study.

The detailed study should be based on a sub-topic related to one or more of the prescribed topics listed in the table on page 13. The sub-topic may be drawn from this table, or a different sub-topic may be selected.

One sub-topic may be selected for a whole class. It will be important to select a sub-topic that is sufficiently broad to accommodate a range of interests and perspectives, so that each student can provide an individual response to the coursework assessment task(s) set, as well as in the Discussion in Section 2 of the Oral Examination. Alternatively, different sub-topics may be selected for individuals or groups of students.

At least one and no more than two of the six assessment tasks for school-assessed coursework should focus on the detailed study. The detailed study assessment task(s) should be designed to assess the student’s understanding of the language and culture of the Indonesian-speaking community and should be selected from those required to assess achievement of Outcome 2, Unit 4 (detailed on pages 28 and 29). The sub-topics and texts should also be selected to ensure the student is able to focus on the knowledge and skills associated with Outcome 2, Unit 4.

Language and culture through texts

The detailed study should enable the student to explore and compare aspects of the language and culture of the Indonesian-speaking community through a range of oral and written texts in Indonesian related to the selected sub-topic. This will enable the student to develop knowledge and understanding of, for example, historical issues, aspects of contemporary society or the literary or artistic heritage of the community. The texts which form the basis of this study might include feature films, short films, short stories, songs, newspaper articles, electronic texts, documentaries, music, painting and oral histories. The length of texts selected will vary depending on the type of text, its density and level of complexity. In order for the student to be able to explore their sub-topic in sufficient depth to meet the relevant outcomes, it is suggested that a range of at least three different kinds of text are selected. These might include aural and visual, as well as written texts.

Language and culture thorough VET
Schools wishing to offer the Vocational Education and Training (VET) option should refer to the VCAA LOTE VET supplement.
Unit 3

AREAS OF STUDY
The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–16 of this study design.

OUTCOMES
For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of three outcomes.

Outcome 1
On completion of this unit the student should be able to express ideas through the production of original texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• create a personal or imaginative text focusing on an event or experience in the past or present;
• show knowledge of first- and third-person narrative perspectives;
• vary language for audience, context and purpose using a range of text types;
• organise and sequence ideas;
• simplify or paraphrase complex ideas;
• select and make appropriate use of reference materials, including dictionaries.

Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to analyse and use information from spoken texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• convey gist, identify main points, supporting points and detailed items of specific information;
• infer points of view, attitudes, emotions from context and/or choice of language and intonation;
• show knowledge of registers and stylistic features such as repetition and tone.
Outcome 3
On completion of this unit the student should be able to exchange information, opinions and experiences.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:

• exchange and justify opinions and ideas;
• present and comment on factual information;
• describe and comment on aspects of past, present and future experience;
• ask for and give assistance or advice;
• use appropriate terms of address for familiar and unfamiliar audiences;
• link and sequence ideas and information;
• use a range of question forms;
• use appropriate gesture;
• self-correct/rephrase to maintain communication.

ASSESSMENT
The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining the achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment of levels of achievement
The student’s level of achievement for Unit 3 will be determined by school-assessed coursework and two end-of-year examinations.

Contributions to final assessment
School-assessed coursework for Unit 3 will contribute 25 per cent to the study score.

The level of achievement for Units 3 and 4 will also be assessed by two end-of-year examinations, which will contribute 50 per cent to the study score.

School-assessed coursework
Teachers will provide to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority a score representing an assessment of the student’s level of achievement.

The score must be based on the teacher’s rating of performance of each student on the tasks set out in the following table and in accordance with an assessment handbook published by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority. The assessment handbook also includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.
Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class time and under supervision. It is expected that the student responds in Indonesian to all assessment tasks.

Unit 4

AREAS OF STUDY

The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–16 of this study design.

OUTCOMES

For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of two outcomes.

Outcome 1

On completion of this unit the student should be able to analyse and use information from written texts.

Key knowledge and skills

To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:

• understand and convey gist, identify main points and extract and use information;
• infer points of view, attitudes, emotions from context and/or choice of language;
• summarise, interpret and evaluate information from texts;
• compare and contrast aspects of different texts on a related topic;
• accurately convey understanding;
• show knowledge of and use a range of text types;
• show knowledge of and use simple stylistic features such as repetition and contrast;
• infer meaning from cognates, grammatical markers and common patterns of word formation;
• appreciate cultural aspects critical to understanding the text.

Outcome 2

On completion of this unit the student should be able to respond critically to spoken and written texts which reflect aspects of the language and culture of Indonesian-speaking communities.
Key knowledge and skills

To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:

• compare and contrast aspects of life in Indonesian-speaking communities with those in Australia;
• identify and comment on culturally specific aspects of language, behaviour or attitude;
• present an opinion about an aspect of the culture associated with the language;
• identify similarities and differences between texts, and find evidence to support particular views;
• show an awareness that different social contexts require different types of language;
• select and make use of relevant reference materials.

ASSESSMENT

The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining the achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment of levels of achievement

The student’s level of achievement for Unit 4 will be determined by school-assessed coursework and two end-of-year examinations.

Contributions to final assessment

School-assessed coursework for Unit 4 will contribute 25 per cent to the study score.

The level of achievement for Units 3 and 4 will also be assessed by two end-of-year examinations, which will contribute 50 per cent to the study score.

School-assessed coursework

Teachers will provide to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority a score representing an assessment of the student’s level of achievement.

The score must be based on the teacher’s rating of performance of each student on the tasks set out in the following table and in accordance with an assessment handbook published by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority. The assessment handbook also includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class time and under supervision. The student must respond in Indonesian to all assessment tasks.
End-of-year examinations
The end-of-year examinations are:
• an oral examination
• a written examination.

Oral examination (approximately 15 minutes)
Purpose
The oral examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s knowledge and skill in using spoken Indonesian.

Specifications
The oral examination has two sections.

Section 1: Conversation (approximately 7 minutes)
The examination will begin with a conversation between the student and the assessor(s). It will consist of a general conversation about the student’s personal world, for example, school and home life, family and friends, interests and aspirations.

Section 2: Discussion (approximately 8 minutes)
Following the Conversation the student will indicate to the assessor(s) the sub-topic chosen for detailed study and, in no more than one minute, briefly introduce the main focus of their sub-topic, alerting assessors to any objects brought to support the discussion. The focus of the discussion will be to explore aspects of the language and culture of Indonesian-speaking communities and the student will be expected to make reference to texts studied.

The student may support the Discussion with objects such as photographs, diagrams, and maps. Notes and cue cards are not permitted. (For details on the VET option, teachers should refer to the LOTE VET Supplement.)
Written examination (2 hours plus 15 minutes reading time)

The student may use monolingual and/or bilingual print dictionaries in the written examination.

Section 1: Listening and responding

Purpose

Section 1 of the written examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s knowledge and skill in analysing information from spoken texts.

The student will be expected to demonstrate understanding of general and specific information from spoken texts and respond in English in Part A and Indonesian in Part B to questions on this information. The questions may require the student to identify information related to:

- the context, purpose and audience of the text;
- aspects of the language of the text, for example, tone, register, knowledge of language structures.

Specifications

Section 1 of the written examination has two parts, Part A and Part B. The texts in both parts will be related to one or more of the prescribed themes.

The student hears three to five texts in Indonesian covering a number of text types. The total listening time for one reading of the texts without pauses will be approximately 4½–5 minutes. The length of the individual texts will not be specified but one text will be longer than the others.

Each text will be heard twice. There will be an announcement at the start of the first reading and a sound to alert students just before the commencement of the second reading. There will be a pause between the first and second readings in which the student may take notes. The student will be given sufficient time after the second reading to complete responses.

The student will be expected to respond to a range of question types, such as completing a table, chart, list or form, or responding to a message, open-ended questions or multiple-choice items.

Part A

There will be two to three texts.

Questions will be phrased in English for responses in English.

Part B

There will be one or two texts.

Questions will be phrased in Indonesian and English for responses in Indonesian.

Section 2: Reading and responding

Purpose

Section 2 of the written examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s knowledge and skill in analysing and responding to information from written texts.

In Part A the student will be required to demonstrate understanding of written texts. The student may be required to extract, summarise, and/or evaluate information from texts. If the texts are related, the student may be required to compare and/or contrast aspects of both.

In Part B the student will be expected to demonstrate understanding of a written text by responding in Indonesian to information provided in a text.
Specifications

Section 2 of the written examination has two parts, Part A and Part B. The texts in both parts will be related to one or more of the prescribed themes. The overall length of text will be 350–450 words and there will be two to three texts in total over Parts A and B.

Part A

The student will be required to read one or two texts in Indonesian. When there are two texts they will be different in style and purpose but may be related in subject matter or context. Questions on the texts will be phrased in English for responses in English.

Part B

The student will be required to read one or two texts in Indonesian. Questions on the text(s) will be phrased in English and Indonesian for response(s) in Indonesian.

Section 3: Writing in Indonesian

Purpose

Section 3 of the written examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s ability to express ideas through the creation of original text in Indonesian.

Specifications

The student will be required to write a text involving presentation of ideas and/or information and/or opinions. There will be a choice of five tasks. The tasks will be related to one or more of the prescribed themes. Tasks will accommodate a range of student interests and will be set to ensure that the student is provided with opportunities for producing different kinds of writing (personal, imaginative, persuasive, informative and evaluative) through, for example:

• having different purposes, audiences and contexts;
• requiring different text types (see table of text types for productive use).

The student will be required to write a response of 200–300 words in Indonesian. The tasks will be phrased in English and Indonesian for a response in Indonesian.

December 2018
Advice for teachers

DEVELOPING A COURSE

A course outlines the nature and sequence of teaching and learning necessary for students to demonstrate achievement of the set of outcomes for a unit. Outcomes are introduced by summary statements and are followed by the key knowledge and skills which relate to the outcomes.

It is recognised that the four macroskills of listening, reading, writing and speaking are elements that generally operate in an integrated way. Nevertheless, it is usually possible to identify a focus skill, or combination of skills that predominate in the performance of a particular task or activity. This approach is reflected in the organisation of the outcomes, and the key knowledge and skills associated with them. The overall balance of emphasis across the macroskills in assessment tasks is indicated in the table on page 35.

Teachers must develop courses that include appropriate learning activities to enable students to develop the knowledge and skills identified in the outcome statements in each unit. For Units 1 and 2, teachers must select assessment tasks from those provided. Tasks do not have to be lengthy to make a decision about student demonstration of achievement of an outcome.

In Units 3 and 4, assessment is more structured. For school-assessed coursework, assessment tasks are prescribed. The contribution that each task makes to the total school-assessed coursework is also stipulated.

Methods

Any communicative teaching method or combination of methods which allows students to achieve the outcomes of the course is appropriate. Since the aims and outcomes emphasise communication, teaching methods should ensure that students are provided with a high level of appropriate input in the language, and are involved in activities which encourage purposeful language use.

Teachers should note, however, that the listing of vocabulary, grammatical structures, and other elements of language indicates that a focus on these is also a necessary part of students’ preparation. Teachers themselves will judge at what points in their course such instruction will be needed.

Structure and organisation

The idea of an organisational focus may be helpful in planning and sequencing learning activities and assessment tasks, and the content associated with them. Themes and topics can serve as effective organisational focuses for activities, as can a discourse form, a skill or a text.
USE OF INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

In designing courses and developing learning activities for Indonesian, teachers should make use of applications of information and communications technology and new learning technologies, such as computer-based learning, multimedia and the World Wide Web, where appropriate and applicable to teaching and learning activities.

In considering the suitability of learning activities in the delivery of language courses, teachers may find the following applications useful.

Language learning applications

Students can access:
- on the school intranet: homework, work sheets, resources (including audio files and interactive software), a class chat room, curriculum statements, sample tasks, web links, sample examinations;
- online learning, such as reading or listening comprehension tasks, grammar and vocabulary building tasks, pronunciation drills, script programs;
- email discussion groups or supervised chat rooms with targeted groups of young people;
- commercially available products, such as CD-ROMs, that offer language exercises, practice or reading materials;
- video conferencing with students from other schools where the language is taught or in a country where the language is spoken.

Students can develop their own:
- vocabulary database;
- word-processing skills in the language.

Information gathering

Students can use the Internet to research:
- statistics on a specific topic in relation to different age groups and gender;
- information related to a specific lifestyle issue, public opinion, theme or topic in countries where the language is spoken;
- biographical data relating to famous singers, bands, historical figures and sportspeople;
- features of fairy tales, legends, common characters and themes, the role of magic, terminology and special language used;
- speakers of the language in Australia, their life and contribution to society;
- websites from countries where the language is spoken; for example, Webcams, school websites, venues, services;
- newspapers and journals in the language;
- online and talking dictionaries.

Students can also:
- check spelling and grammar for written tasks;
- use instructions in the language to install, construct or use a product.
Presentation applications
Students can use information and communications technology to:
• create animations, multimedia, PowerPoint and web page presentations;
• use a data projector, digital video, digital camera and desktop publishing package;
• download visuals, design computer-generated visuals;
• record audio tracks, download audio materials to complement presentations;
• take notes in class or word process in the language;
• use communication media such as the telephone, email, fax;
• email tasks to the teacher from home or the classroom.

KEY COMPETENCIES AND EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS
Students undertaking the following types of assessment, in addition to demonstrating their understanding and mastery of the content of the study, typically demonstrate the following key competencies and employability skills.

<table>

Revision of ada / adalah

Text types
Affinity diagram / article /
email / discussion / letter / personal profile / survey /

Examples of learning activities

Listening
conduct a survey of classmates about their leisure time or weekend activities and complete a table differentiating between indoor and outdoor activities listen to several short talks/conversations and work out the register used; discuss the use of formal and informal language

Speaking
read magazine articles about leisure time/teenage life in Indonesia; discuss and compare with Australian norms affinity diagram – working alone, students respond to a topic question by posting individual entries on post-it notes; they then collate similar responses in pairs, then groups, negotiating the sorting process and presenting the final information orally or in writing

Reading
read texts online and in print about different leisure-time pursuits in a range of countries and compare research an Indonesian website for information on teenagers in Indonesia and make notes

Writing
after discussing informal letter writing techniques/suitable phrases, reply to an email or letter from an Indonesian penfriend, responding to questions about your free time and leisure activities in winter write a short personal profile of your two best friends, their ‘addiction’ to computer games and the effect on your life

Example assessment task

Outcome 1: Establish and maintain a spoken or written exchange related to personal areas of experience.
Assessment task: Informal conversation.

Details of the task: Participate in an informal conversation with an Indonesian-speaking friend about your free time and leisure activities, and compare with teenage life in Indonesia.

MAIN CHARACTERISTICS OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF WRITING

The following descriptions outline the main characteristics of five different kinds of writing. They are intended as a guide only; students would not be expected to include all aspects in their writing.

Personal writing:
- Creates a sense of person/personality for the writer in the reader’s mind.
- Establishes a relationship/intimacy/empathy between the writer and the reader.
- Usually employs first and/or second person; subjective; informal, familiar style/register; often includes emotive language.
- Emphasises ideas, opinions, feelings and impressions, rather than factual, objective information.
- Uses, in reflective writing, the act of writing to help the author understand and unravel his/her own feelings or ideas.
- May, in certain contexts, use contracted language, such as is used in speech.

Imaginative writing:
- Manipulates the reader’s response to the piece to create the desired impression or response; visual and/or emotional appeal.
- Usually creates a strong sense of context (physical surroundings and atmosphere) and situation.
- Normally includes description (person, place, emotion, atmosphere), so careful selection of language such as adjectives and adverbs (or their equivalents) are important.
- Uses techniques such as variation in sentence length, juxtaposition of different sentence lengths, careful control of structure and sequencing, to add to the overall effect by creating the desired atmosphere or conveying the required emotion.
- May break normal sequencing for added impact, such as in a flashback or in a final disclosure which puts a different interpretation on preceding passages.

Persuasive writing:
- Manipulates the reader’s emotions and opinions in order to achieve a specific purpose, that is, to achieve a desired outcome or effect which is important to and selected by the writer.
- Persuasive techniques chosen are influenced by the nature of the target audience; that is, the language (vocabulary, sentence structures, style/register), structure and sequencing of the piece are framed with the particular audience and purpose in mind.
- Requires choice of the best word (with the precise shade of meaning and overtones of approval/disapproval, virtue/vice etc.), so range of vocabulary and dictionary technique are important.
- Aims in certain instances (for example, advertisements) to keep the target audience unaware of being manipulated and adopts an appearance of objectivity and rationality by using indirect, subtle, secretive techniques; confidential, intimate, collaborative style and register.
- Sometimes uses exaggeration, extravagant language, and humour to create a conspiratorial relationship between the writer and the reader.
- Often uses the second person for direct address and appeal.
- Sometimes employs direct speech and questions to intensify the relationship with the audience.
- May use techniques such as the use of technical or scientific language and superlatives or quantitative statements to lend authority to the content.
Informative writing:
- Aims to convey information from the writer to the reader as clearly, comprehensively and accurately as possible.
- Usually uses objective style and impersonal expressions, although the writer may use an informal style to establish a relationship of ‘friendly helper’ with the reader.
- Normally has no particular point of view to convey; if a point of view is involved, the writing becomes either persuasive (aiming to convert the reader to a particular point of view or attitude in order to convince him or her to act or respond in a certain way) or evaluative (aiming to weigh two or more items/ideas in order to convince the reader rationally and objectively that a particular point of view is correct).
- Generally uses facts, examples, explanations, analogies and sometimes statistical information, quotations and references as evidence.
- Chooses language, structure and sequence to make the message clear and unambiguous, so the sequencing of information is usually logical and predictable.
- Probably uses few adjectives, adverbs and images, except as examples or analogies in explanation.

Evaluative writing:
- Aims to reach a conclusion acceptable to an intelligent, unbiased reader through the logical presentation and discussion of facts and ideas.
- Presents two or more important aspects of an issue or sides of an argument and discusses these rationally and objectively; using evidence to support the contrasting sides or alternatives.
- Uses objective style; appeals to reason not emotion; creation of an impression of balance and impartiality is essential.
- Often includes expressions of cause, consequence, opposition and concession.
SUITABLE RESOURCES

Courses must be developed within the framework of the study design: the areas of study, outcome statements, and key knowledge and skills.

Some of the print resources listed in this section may be out of print. They have been included because they may still be available from libraries, bookshops and private collections.

COURSE BOOKS

Cartwright, K, & Soehodo, S, 2000. Bagus Sekali! 3, CIS. Heinemann. Chapter 4 and 5 could be used as springboards for class discussion in Indonesian on arts, music and film. (+ Audio)

WEBSITES

At the time of publication the URLs (website addresses) cited were checked for accuracy and appropriateness of content. However, due to the transient nature of material placed on the web, their continuing accuracy cannot be verified. Teachers are strongly advised to prepare their own indexes of sites that are suitable and applicable to the courses they teach, and to check these addresses prior to allowing student access.

Generally the title given is the title of the page; where this is not possible a description of the content is given.
